Case No. C17-470-RSL-JPD

MINUTE ORDER DIRECTING THE PARTIES TO COMPLY WITH
LCR 26(c)

16 The following minute order is made at the direction of the Court, the Honorable
17 James P. Donohue, United States Magistrate Judge:

18 This matter comes before the Court upon the parties' submission of a proposed 19 stipulated protective order. Dkt. 56. Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(c), protective orders may 20 be entered to protect confidential commercial information and/or to limit the scope of specific 21 disclosures. Such protective orders may issue upon a showing of good cause. Although 22 parties may agree on confidentiality among themselves, when they request that the court be
23 involved, the proposed order must be narrowly drawn, identifying both the type of information
24 that is to be protected and, if not obvious, the reason such protection is warranted.

25 In this district, parties are strongly encouraged to use this district's model protective 26 order, which is available on the Court's website. However, with the exception of the

1 introductory paragraph, the stipulated protective order submitted by the parties in this case
2 appears to differ substantially from the model protective order. LCR 26(c) requires that
3 “[p]arties that wish to depart from the model order must provide the court with a redlined
4 version identifying departures from the model.” To date, neither party has provided the Court
5 with a redline version that reflects the differences between their submission and the model
6 protective order approved for use in this district. Accordingly, the parties shall submit a proper
7 redline version to the Court by no later than Wednesday, September 20, 2017.

8 The Clerk is directed to send a copy of this Minute Order to counsel for all parties.

9 DATED this 13th day of September, 2017.
